HERD REPLACEMENTS PLENTIFUL FOR 1952

Plenty of milking herd replacements are forecast for Virginia farmers for this year and next.

Ben F. Morgan, dairy marketing specialist at VPI, says whole milk cow numbers in Virginia leveled off in 1950-51, and are expected to turn downward this year. The number of heifers one and two years old kept for milk has gone up. From January 1951 to January of 1952, there was an 8 per cent increase in one and two-year-old heifers kept for milking.

Likewise, the number of heifer calves less than one year old is 10 per cent above last year. This indicates a sizeable number of replacements in Virginia for 1953.

Morgan says Virginia farmers should not be concerned over the fact that fewer replacements will be available from the northeastern states because of the outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Canada. Total imports of dairy cattle in Virginia are less than one per cent of total cow numbers, and only 5 per cent of replacements.

Other dairy facts from Morgan: In recent weeks dairy product prices have increased relative to prices for both feed concentrates and meat animals. The milk feed ratio in February was above average, and the butter-feed ratio was equal to average for the first time since 1948.

Prices of feed grain declined in January and February, after reaching the highest level since August 1948. This has brought on a price decrease in most of the mixed dairy feeds. As of the second week in March, the price of most dairy feeds has dropped from $2.00 to $4.00 per ton from January. They were still about 9.6 per cent higher than March a year ago.

WEED SEEDS IN GRAINS CAN BE REDUCED

Weed sprays applied early in the spring will help solve the problem of weed seeds in small grains.

John M. Amos, weed control specialist at VPI, says that green flower buds, flowers, and seed pods in small grains at harvest often cause the grain to heat and spoil in storage, or to need special attention for drying. The presence of weed seeds in grain often reduces the value of the grain and may be a means of spreading weeds on the farm.

He advises using a 2,4-D weed spray early in the spring when the plants have stooled or tillered, but before they begin to joint. The temperature should be near 60 degrees F. for best results. Use 2,4-D at the rate of 1-2 to 3-4 pound of the acid equivalent per acre. Use the amine, or sdium salt, form if resistant weeds are not present; but if garlic and cockle are troublesome, the ester form will give better results.

This chemical spray will not kill all the weeds present, but will deter their growth, or prevent flowers from forming.

When a legume, such as lespedeza, is to be seeded after sprayinh, three weeks or more should lapse between operations, depending in the temperature and rainfall.

For more complete information on this problem, contact your county agent or write the Extension Service at VPI, Blacksburg.

PVT. N. H. KELSO NOW AT FORT KNOX

Fort Meade, Md.,- Pvt. Nathaniel H. Kelso, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kelso, of Route 3, Appomattox, Va., has completed processing at the 2053rd Reception Center here and is assigned to the 3rd Armored Division, Fort Knox, Ky., for Army basic training.

GOOD PRACTICES NEEDED FOR PASTURE

Good pastures don't just happen.

Proper preparation, seeding, fertilization and management are "musts" according to G. R. Epperson, associate Extension agronomist at VPI.

Designed especially for farmers in middle and southern Piedmont Virginia, here are some of his suggestions:

If liming is needed (determine by soil test) work lime into the soil during the seedbed preparation. Plow seedbed or disc thoroughly to kill undesirable plants. Disc and roll with corrugated roller until the seedbed is firm and the upper inch is made up of finely divided particles of soil.

Spring seedings should be made from now to April 10. Satisfactory stands have been obtained by overseeding in the early spring on small grain stands. If you do this, cut the small grain for hay or silage in case of dry weather to save moisture for the young pasture plants.

As for mixtures to seed - Epperson suggests 10 to 14 pounds of orchard grass and one to two pounds of ladino clover; or six to 10 pounds of orchard grass and 10 to 14 pounds of lespedeza.

If possible, arrange fields so livestock can be rotated. Move animals to a new field every 6 to 15 days. One or two days before or immediately after rotating livestock from a field, clip with mower to encourage even growth.

Details on seeding, fertilization under varying conditions, alternate mixtures, and management are available from all county agents, or from the agronomy department at VPI, Blacksburg.

SUPERIMPOSED? ? ?
Only a photographer can superimpose the Bible on the World! History tells us that the few theocrats who tried it failed. Not that the Bible is too small to cover the World. THE WORLD IS TOO SMALL TO ENCOMPASS THE BIBLE.
A great truth, you see, is always greater than those who awaken to it! That is why the Bible can change men's lives . . . can give them immortality. Men do not grip the Bible. The Bible grips men!
But don't make the mistake of waiting for the Bible to reach you. It has already surrounded you!
REACH FOR THE BIBLE. In your Home. In your Church.
Learn its Truth. Love its Author. Live its Life.
THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy, nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend every regularly and support the Church: They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
